

Hiring Actor-Teachers for the 2019-20 school year!

Creative Action is a nationally-recognized youth arts education nonprofit organization in Austin, TX. Our team of professional teaching artists inspire youth to be creative artists, critical thinkers, confident leaders, and courageous allies in their community.

Our highly successful, multi-day, interactive residency programs use theatre and dialogue activities in Pre-K-7th grade classrooms to activate social and emotional development, creative thinking, and problem solving skills. These highly successful programs serve more than 400 classrooms reaching 10,000 students each year. To read more about these programs – inspired by Theatre of the Oppressed and Theatre in Education – please visit our website:

We're seeking future actor-teachers for in-school, touring interactive performance residency programs at the Pre-K-7th grade levels with:

- Passion for Creative Action's mission (Dream Big, Create Community, Stand Up, Strive for Excellence, and Have Fun!)
- Deep respect for and curiosity about diverse young people's ideas
- Commitment to social justice
- Experience teaching or working with young people
- Experience, comfort, and/or openness to facilitating dialogue on sometimes sensitive topics
- Ability to perform and teach in English and in Spanish (for some programs/casts)

Creative Action is an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity and equity in the workplace. We value experience in addition to education when hiring. We strongly encourage those who reflect the communities we serve to apply, including bilingual individuals and/or people of color. A teaching or arts degree is not required. Other relevant experience will be considered.

Requirements:

- Must be available between 7am and 1pm weekdays during school year with minimal conflicts.
- Reliable transportation and ability to transport props/sets essential.
- Requires ability to tour to schools in self-directed manner; arriving punctually and reliably
- Requires excellent communication skills and timely responses to electronic communication
- Must complete required background check and clearance, provide references and fill out job application available at creativeaction.org/get-involved/jobs.
- Rehearsals begin mid to late-August or sooner depending on actor-teacher availability.
- Ongoing attendance at Creative Action trainings throughout the school year is also required.

Schedule/Calendar Details:

All actor-teacher positions are part-time, about 10-20 hours each week, usually 3 weeks per month, as shows are able to be booked. Holidays and school vacations off.
